THE COUNCIL.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THE BOARD.

Reports of Various Committees Read and Disposed Of—A Big Batch of Business Handled—A Little Breeze About the Bucket-shop.

The City Council met in regular session yesterday morning, with President Humphreys in the chair and the following members present: Barrett, Book, Chandler, Cohn, Collins, Gibbs, Hanley, Hiller, Mathews, Moriarty, Sinsabaugh and Teed.

After the reading of the minutes and some unimportant business, the Superintendent of Streets stated that a steam-motor road running on Texas, Temple and other streets was being run so as to endanger life and limb of the citizens, but as he would be held with his bondsmen for all damages should he tear up the road as instructed by the Council, he would recommend that the matter be settled in the courts, and so taken out of his hands.

Mr. Cohn said the courts had sustained the action of the city in other places and would sustain the authorities here were they to take the same steps. He would, therefore, move that the Street Superintendent be instructed to go ahead and tear out the tracks.

Capt. Barrett said that Mr. McLaughlin was operating the road without having a legal franchise.

Dr. Sinsabaugh thought the tearing out of the tracks a serious measure to take, but there was nothing to do but to take these steps. The cable road would be willing to go ahead and lay their tracks over the same territory, so the residents in that part of the city would not be deprived of transportation. The motion of Mr. Cohn carried.

E. H. Boyd and others asked for an appropriation of $400 for improvements on the Mission road, which, after debate, was allowed on completion of the work.

The reports of the Auditor, Zanjero and Chief of Police were read and referred to the Finance Committee.

The City Surveyor reported that the sidewalk on San Pedro street had been widened to 12 feet, and on Castelar street 20 feet. It was decided that no further improvements or grade a matter of record by an ordinance. He also recommended the laying of certain storm-water drains from the Arroyo de los Reyes. He also reported that portions of Lucas avenue were under 50 feet in width, and consequently not of legal width, so the petition of the property owners to have it graded could not be granted unless the street was widened.

Mr. Hanley said there were some streets which had been graded by the city which were only 45 feet wide.

Mr. Cohn said the property-owners could grade any street, but the city could not accept it; he would therefore move that for the future, when the City Surveyor was instructed to establish the grade of a street, instead of publishing the same on his own account, he should report the same to the Council first and have them vote on it before publication. Carried.

The City Surveyor also reported that Ohio and Water streets were only 50 feet wide, and he wanted to know whether he should go ahead and establish the grades.

Capt. Barrett said that the Council should not be so arbitrary as to reward the width of the streets. It was nice enough to widen wide streets, but he mentioned a number of the principal streets in town which were under 50 feet in width, and it was impossible to widen some of them. If the Council was going to act in such a manner, he, as a member of the Board of Public Works, would oppose the paving or grading of any more streets and vote for stopping the work on those which are now being paved or graded. It was a bad move to take, and we had much better have narrow streets than none at all.

The City Attorney stated that all streets which have been accepted as streets by the city could not be thrown aside, but must be treated as streets, although they may be only six feet wide.

On motion of Dr. Cohn the whole report of the City Surveyor not otherwise acted upon was referred to the Board of Public Works to take action upon.

The City Attorney was instructed to draft a resolution changing the name of Bridge street to Brooklyn avenue.

The matter of Chestnut street, which is the property of Mr. Stowell, again came up, and was the subject of a long discussion, as usual. Mr. Teed was in favor of condemning enough of Mr. Stowell's property to make a legal street. The matter was referred to the City Attorney for his opinion.

The matter of grading Ann street, the City Surveyor reported that it could be put on order at a slight expense to the city.

Capt. Barrett thought if this could be done the resolution of intention to grade should be published and the work done at once.

On motion of Mr. Cohn, the Clerk was instructed to notify the property owners on Ann street to take the necessary steps, and the resolution could then be published in the regular order.

A number of deeds from different parties conveying streets to the city were then presented, and, on motion, accepted and ordered filed.

Mr. Cohn moved that after the 1st of May no new works be commenced or ordered by the city until some of the contracts now in hand be completed.

Capt. Barrett objected to this resolution, as some streets had been let in sections and it would be wrong to stop the work before the whole street was finished.

Mr. Cohn stated that he meant by no more work to be done, as far as he was concerned, that it appeared almost impossible to get it finished.

Dr. Sinsabaugh was in favor of giving more help to the City Surveyor, and to push the work forward until it was well done, but not to pass any resolution which would tie the hands of the city government so that no new work could be commenced.

Mr. Cohn said that some assessments assessed to the city had not yet collected, and he blamed it all on the incompetency of some of the Superintendents of Streets, who could not do the work required of them under the Vrooman Act.

Mr. Book thought if such was the situation of affairs, some measures ought to be taken by which this work may be facilitated, and not retard it by any action.

Mr. Cohn stated that there were $575,000 worth of work already laid out this year, and that the city's work of the year had been done, and that the City Surveyor could not keep pace with the rush.

Capt. Barrett thought if the matter was left with the Board of Public Works the people who wanted work done under the Vrooman Act could be instructed to go ahead with their own work, and not bother the Council with it.

Mr. Hanley had thought if the people knew what the Vrooman Act was they could do a great deal to help out the Council. The motion of Mr. Collins was lost.

Mr. Candler moved that the City Attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance repealing the ordinance which licensed the gambling place on Main street known as "The Turf and Grain Exchange," as he had learned there was a law which made it a felony to engage in a game of chance, and the Council was to be indicated by the Grand Jury now in session.

President Humphreys amended by offering the following resolution:

WHEREAS, some six weeks ago this Council did grant a license to the "Grain and Turf Exchange" to carry on its business in this city, which action of the Council was based solely upon the opinion of our City Attorney; and whereas the same inasmuch as the bill had exchanged transacted business brought it within the pale of the law that while the Council had a right to fix a high license (which we tried to do), yet we could not suppress it;

It is hereby ordered that a committee of three be appointed with power to act in calling to their assistance such outside legal opinion as they may deem necessary, and that said committee with said assistance, investigate all the workings of said exchange, including its legal aspects, and report back to this Council as soon as practicable the result and legal opinions arrived at, to the end that this Council may, if possible, take such steps in the premises as may best subserve the public good.

Captain Barrett thought there was no necessity to take any such action, and was little danger of an indictment.

Dr. Sinsabaugh said the Council had gone entirely on the opinion of the City Attorney in this case, and he was very glad that the matter had come up at last and he had a chance to change his vote, as he was satisfied the place was a gambling device of the worst character and the sooner it was wiped out the better.

Mr. Cohn said the Council could not rescind the license they had granted and which had been paid for in advance until another bill was passed, the business was an illegal one and a gambling device was too simple. It might be fixed by refusing to renew the license, but it could not be rescinded without taking legal steps.

Capt. Barrett moved to lay the resolution on the table, and that no member had a right to come into the Council to build up its members with threats of indictments.

Mr. Candler said he was not bulldozing, but hard facts were to be told to the Grand Jury and had come from there here, and was stating a fact when he said they were liable to indictment.

Mr. Collins wanted to lay the matter over for a short time, and was willing to take his chances of indictment.

The motion to lay on the table was lost, and the Council then adjourned until 1:30 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The members were late getting in, and it was 1:45 before President Humphreys took the chair and called the Council to order.

The President announced that the first business in order was Mr. Candler's motion in regard to the Turf and Grain Exchange.

Mr. Candler moved that action be deferred one week, which was seconded by Mr. Collins.

Mr. Teed handed a resolution to the Clerk, which asked to have read.

Mr. Barrett called for his motion, when Dr. Sinsabaugh said that nothing could be gained by trying to rush matters, and that the Council should be given time to hear every bearing on the matter.

Mr. Teed's resolution was then read, moving that the Council appoint a committee of three and employ counsel to see whether or not they had the right to license or suppress the Turf Exchange.

Mr. Candler's motion was then put to a vote, and was lost.

The question before the Council was Mr. Candler's amendment, and before it was put to a vote, Mr. Cohn asked that the City Attorney be treated with courtesy, and that he be sustained.

Mr. Candler said that he thought the matter should be settled at once. He thought the City Attorney was wrong, as he did not believe that the city had any more right to license this gambling institution than it had license to robbery, murder or any other rascality.

After some further discussion the question was about to be put to a vote when Mr. Barrett asked who was to appoint the committee, and on being told that the President would have that power, objected. The question was then put and was lost by a vote of 9 to 4, requiring 10 votes to carry the motion.

Dr. Sinsabaugh then stated that they should go ahead and let the public see where they stood. They were making all efforts possible to have the place suppressed, and they would now await the action of the Grand Jury.

Mr. Teed said that it would be some time before another license would be issued to them that the Clerk be instructed not to issue them one for less than $5000 a month. He thought this could pay it and that there was money in it.

Mr. Barrett arose to express his surprise at the remarks of the gentleman, and was proceeding to talk at some length, when he was called to order by Mr. Cohn, on the ground that there was nothing before the Council.

The report of the Board of Public Works was then taken, and the various recommendations, as heretofore published, were adopted.

The President asked the Clerk to read a communication, which had been referred to the Council by the Police Commissioners, when Clerk Teed objected, at the same time delivering a legal opinion as to the legality of boards and commissioners originating business, saying it interfered with his ministerial functions in the city.

The Clerk then read a communication from J. F. Thacker, a gunsmith, saying that his store was robbed some time ago, and that Chief of Police Cuddy had charged him $16 for recovering the goods, and asking that it be returned to him. The communication was accompanied by a receipted bill from the Chief by T. J. Donahue.

Mr. Barrett moved that the communication be referred to the Police Commissioners.

Mr. Cohn said that he was surprised that the commissioners should have referred such a matter to the Council.

They should have referred it to the Fire Commissioners.

The report of the Fire Commissioners was then read, and the recommendation granting Whittier, Fuller & Co. permission to erect a warehouse on Lazard street was adopted.

The President asked the Clerk to read a communication from the railroad company, which said that a change of grade was to be made, and ordering them to stop.

This caused a little breeze, and Mr. Barrett withdrew his motion.

The consideration of the Finance Committee's report was then resumed and the various recommendations and bills passed.

The report of the Fire Commissioners was then read, and the recommendation granting Whittier, Fuller & Co. permission to erect a warehouse on Lazard street was adopted.

The recommendation as to the purchase of hose was read, and Mr. Furrey addressed the Council, saying that he was the sole agent for the White Anchor hose, and read telegrams from the manufacturers saying that they would only furnish hose through Mr. Furrey. The Crane Bros.' representation also appeared, and said his company would give bonds to furnish the hose required for fire protection. He said the Fire Commissioners thoroughly understood the matter. The representative of the Maltese Cross Company also appeared, and protested against having his bid referred back.

Mr. Barrett then moved that the bid of the Maltese Cross Company be accepted, and that the White Anchor bid be referred back to the Fire Commissioners. Carried.

The contract of the Electric Light Company was deferred two weeks.

The report of the Sewer Committee was read, and the various recommendations were adopted.

The report of the Board of Health was read and adopted.

The report of the special committee on names of streets was read, asking for further time.

The name of Zanja Committee was read, which caused considerable debate.

Mr. Collins said he wanted to furnish water to the Sisters' property at an expense of about $400.

Mr. Sinsabaugh objected, saying that he would oppose any expenditure of money unless other people who had been deprived of water were furnished. He referred to property on Figueroa street, which would destroy the Sisters' home unless given water, and he had rec'd. a telegram saying that an action would be commenced against the city.

The whole matter was then referred back to the Zanja Committee for one week.

Dr. Sinsabaugh moved that action be taken to supply the people between Main and Figueroa streets with water for irrigation purposes. Carried.

Several other communications were read, when Mr. Barrett moved that these things be referred back to the committee, which prevailed.

Several bills were also read for laying 3-inch pipe in Zanja No. 6, which were referred to the Zanja Committee.

Mr. Collins called attention to the street blockade at Fort and Second streets, and the Superintendent of streets was ordered to have the street cleared sufficiently to get the water pipes through in four days.

Adjudged.

Mr. Cohn said that the men were working for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

Mr. Moriarty said that he went to Mr. Hewitt, and that he did not pay them. Mr. Collins, after making a statement to the matter, said that the bill should be referred to the Southern Pacific Railroad for payment.

Mr. Barrett thought he was paid anything and never would. He wanted to be paid at once. A vote was then taken on Mr. Barrett's motion to have the payment at once, and it passed—12 ayes, 1 nay, Cohn.

A communication was read from Justice Austin, stating that the appointment of Justice King had been made by the Board of Supervisors, and asking that the Council act with liberality in the matter, as the business had increased to such an extent that it was impossible for one man to do the work received and paid.

The report of the Board of Health was read and approved.

Mr. Cohn said that there was a heavy royalty on these collars, which was the cause of the high price.

After debate, Mr. Sinsabaugh moved that the bill be allowed, which prevailed—12 ayes, 1 nay, Cohn.

The bill of the Warwick Company, for horses furnished the fire department, came up. Mr. Cohn said he thought $18 for three collars was too much. Chief Moriarty said there was a heavy royalty on these collars, which was the cause of the high price.

Mr. Barrett moved that the City Surveyor make an estimate as to the proportion to be paid by the Cable Road Company.

Justice King appeared before the Council, and, after making a statement in regard to his appointment, asked that the Council provide him with a courtroom, clerk books, etc.

The bill of D. F. Dunnigan, for Beaudry avenues, came up, and, after a statement by Mr. Barrett, a warrant was ordered

WHEN you have rooms to rent say so in next column of THE TIMES.

FOR MEAT.

In the case of George Lorenz vs. H. B. Marshall, the defendant has confessed judgment to the amount of $20,68, a debt owing for meat supplied by the plaintiff to his family, and also extra grain charges, during the month of August, 1887.

In a similar suit in which J. W. McMillan and F. Schade appear as plaintiffs the same defendant has confessed judgment in the sum of $37,60, being the sum owing for meat supplied during the month of January, 1888, and also a further sum of $130 for meat supplied while the defendant was engaged with his men at the site of the Main-street Hotel.

WANTS advertised in THE TIMES bring a reply invariably.

drawn for the amount of the bill, as the work was done of necessity.

In regard to the appointment of Justice King the committee reported:

"In the matter of Judge King, who claims to have been appointed by the Board of Supervisors; and being of the opinion that the Board of Supervisors have not been recognized by the city charter as the governing body of the municipality, have submitted the question to the legal department of the city, and hereby attach said opinion, which is as follows:

"In answer to your question—

"Is the city under legal obligation to furnish courtroom, etc., for, and to pay the salary of the Justice of the Peace lately appointed by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county?

"It is my opinion there is no legal obligation on the part of the city to do so.

Respectfully,

"J. C. DALY, City Attorney."

Mr. Sinsabaugh moved that the matter be referred to the Board of Supervisors.

Assistant City Attorney Dunn made a statement that, although the matter of Mr. Daly's opinion dealt with the only question asked him, was clearly of the opinion that something should be done to relieve the pressure of the City Justice. He said he had thought some action should be made for a courtroom for Justice King, and suggested that he be allowed the use of the Council chamber for the time being.

Justice King stated that he was not before the Council chamber for the time being.

PASADENA.

THE NEWS FROM THAT BURG
PITHILY CHRONICLED.

Knights of Labor—Plumbers Embarrassed—Bicycling—City Dads—The Whisky Case—A New Journal—Electric Motor—Board of Trade.

PASADENA, April 30.—[Specially Reported for THE TIMES.] There are many Knights of Labor in town, some of whom hold cards from eastern assemblies, but not until recently has an assembly been formed here. Local Assembly No. 1051 was organized a few days ago with 15 members, Frank Bunnell secretary. It will meet at Library Hall on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. All the usual trades are represented among the members, and it is expected that the assembly will considerably increase in membership.

Great surprise was expressed this morning when it became generally known that Hentig & Co., plumbers, had made an assignment. The firm was supposed to be one of the most prosperous in the city, and it is certain that it has been doing a large business. The assignee is R. Williams. The assets and liabilities are not made public, but it is thought the business is not in such bad shape as to require much time for adjudication. Hentig & Co., Los Angeles, are the principal creditors, and it is in the assignment the result of their threats to litigate. The city is a debtor to Hentig & Co. to the amount of $1000, and there are sufficient other good assets to justify the belief that 100 cents on the dollar will be paid. Until lately Mr. Jeffries was a member of the firm, but he sold his interest to Hentig.

The bicycle race to Monrovia and return on Saturday has aroused fresh interest in the State tournament at Los Angeles on the 6th of May. The Pasadena wheelmen will be represented in the races on that and subsequent days, and a good record is expected from them. Andrews, who won the race on Saturday, and Lancaster have already entered for the tournament. The principal road contest will be after the events, and will be from "Los Angeles to Santa Monica."

The postoffice furniture and appurtenances were transferred to the new quarters on Raymond avenue yesterday, and in the matter of space, light and general convenience to the officers and the public, it is certainly a great improvement on the old order of things. Postmaster Masters has arranged for 500 boxes of mail which have not yet arrived. When in plant the office will have an outfit of 1500 boxes.

The handsome and spacious room next north of the new postoffice is being fitted up for a grocery, to be occupied by Kennedy & Co. The city fathers held a short session this morning, during which City Attorney Polk reported that the City Assessors could legally assess from the county assessment, and that it would cost less than a separate assessment. Action deferred. A bill of Hentig & Jeffries, for $420.77, was ordered paid from the general fund and charged to the sewer fund. The matter of selling beer was called to the attention of the Council by A. F. Mills, who complained that that beverage is being sold under the "crack" sign at a restaurant on Fair Oaks avenue. No action. Adjourned to meet Wednesday, at 3:30 p.m.

The Methodist Church was lighted by electricity last night for the first time, and the result was very satisfactory. Seven incandescent lamps of 65-candle power do the business, but six more are to be put in. It is believed this is the first church in Southern California to be illuminated by the electric light.

Mr. Fleming, the manager of the Carlton, has arranged for reopening the Carlton restaurant by a firm of well-known caterers, and the guests of the house will soon have the satisfaction of again putting their feet under the mattock of that attractive salle à manger.

The temple of Justice was dedicated this morning to a hearing of the case of John Dolan, arrested for selling liquor contrary to the statute in such cases made and provided. The testimony of Officer Fowler, the complaining witness, to the effect that he had bought liquor of Dolan, was met by a flat contradiction from the defendant, his wife and one of two others, and the Justice was inclined to disbelieve the woman, who denied that tangle-foot had been sold in the house, but a neat legal coup d'état was sprung upon the prosecution in the shape of an asseveration that Mrs. Dolan had disposed of it, and not the defendant.

This afternoon Chinatown again claimed the attention of the Court and 12 good men and true.

A plain drunk was to appear for trial this afternoon, but he evidently thought $5 was cheap enough for the luxury, as he failed to show up and forfeited his deposit.

A new journal will make its appearance in a few days—name yet to be decided upon. It will be successor to the Social Call, and will be issued weekly, with J. M. Shawhan as editor and J. D. Jones business manager. It is intended to make it a bright, eight-page literary paper, with a sharp eye on local affairs.

E. C. Webster left last night for an eastern trip.

Messrs. H. W. Magee, B. M. Wootkins and George Herrmann have gone up to San Francisco to attend to matters personal and political. The Republican State Convention will probably claim most of the time of the three days.

The First National Bank has received word from New York of the final disposition of Pasadena sewer bonds to the amount of $104,500, and within the next day or two the bank will ship to the Chase National Bank of that city the necessary bonds to fill the order, the proceeds of which will be available immediately upon deposit. The long delay in the arrival of the documents may therefore be considered nearly at an end, and soon the dirt will be flying at both termini of the ditch, and the city will be in a fair way to have its sewer system in running order by mid-summer. Bravo!

George W. Wilson, late of the real-estate firm of Wilson & Richardson, will leave in the morning for a month's absence at his old home in Le Mars, Iowa.

The Painter Bros. have a steam dummy engine in operation on their road from the Painter Hotel to the cemetery and Devil's Gate, but, as has been mentioned in this correspondence, they contemplate putting in electric motors. One of the firm returned a few days ago from a careful inspection of the electric system at San Diego, and was pleased with its workings. Much work will be made on the Painter roads at once, but when made it will extend to the whole system, beginning at Colorado street.

Two runaways today, but no damage to anybody in a corporeal sense, although the pockets of the owners suffer somewhat in consequence of disabled vehicles and horses.

A public meeting to complete the organization of the Pasadena Board of Trade was held at Williams' Hall this afternoon, W. U. Masters, postmaster of the city, chairman. A board of directors composed of W. A. Ray, Enoch Knight, J. Banbury, W. U. Masters, J. H. Painter, G. A. Swartwout and B. A. O'Neill, was chosen at a former meeting and the selection ratified today. By-laws were adopted. The membership fee was fixed at $25, and other laws adopted in conformity with the liberal articles of incorporation.

A young man named Thomas Watsells of South Pasadena had his pocket picked of $25 on Saturday evening. It is supposed he lost it while in a crowd at the Salvation Army.

A $5 burglary occurred at C. A. Gibbs' house Saturday evening.

WELLS-BELL.

Horace Bell Is Completely Knocked Out by Wells.

In Department No. 1 of the Superior Court yesterday Judge Cheaney gave his ruling in the notorious suits of criminal libel against G. Wiley Lee.

The courtroom was filled by people interested in the case. It will be remembered that Horace Bell had the defendant arrested upon a charge of libeling him and injuring his reputation. Col. Wells left for the East, but upon instructions of ex-Chief of Police Darcy, he was arrested at Barstow. The Court, in delivering its judgment, said: "The question at bar is, whether the statute of limitations can be pleaded against the action. The Court holds it was right in its previous ruling, when it decided that a misdemeanor cannot be prosecuted after one year, nor will a justice of the peace have any jurisdiction in such a case. The new complaints allege that the defendant was out of the State part of the time, but the statute of limitations should not be interpreted too strongly against the plaintiff. It is therefore ordered that the writ be granted and that the cases be dismissed."

What further developments will arise in the Holt-Wells matter remains to be seen, but so far as legal redress is concerned it would seem as if further proceedings are by the Court's decision rendered yesterday finally stopped.

A MOTHER-IN-LAW

Anxious to Know Whether Her Son Is Alive or Not.

The epistolary efforts of certain correspondents who pour in their effusions upon prominent city officials are oftentimes very curious. The following is a sample received yesterday from Sheriff Kays:

"April 24, 1888.

"My Dear Friend: My mother wish you would do her a favor. We got news that her son-in-law died here on the 9th of April; and she wants to know if it is so or not. His name is George Mathison; and write a few lines. So don't forget to let us know. Yours truly, L. E. HOWELL."

"Crescent City, Del Norte County, Cal."

If Mr. Howell is still in the flesh, his mother-in-law will no doubt be glad if we will communicate with her, but if not he had better not attempt it.

"The Times" has a larger bona-fide circulation than any other newspaper published in Southern California.

MINNESOTA is enjoying a slight snowfall, with the thermometer at the fifteen point.

SPAIN possesses the fastest cruising warship afloat—the Reina Regent. She can steam 21 knots an hour.

ALL delegates to the Sacramento Convention, except a few from the northern counties, are at the State capital.

THE Pope's decree, condemning the "plan of campaign," has aroused a perfect storm of indignation among Irishmen all over the world, and the end is not yet.

We some time since predicted that a "trust" in peanuts would soon be formed. Our prediction has become an actual and alarming fact.

THE City Council appears inclined, in deference to universal public sentiment, to reconsider its action in licensing that gambling institution, the so-called Turf and Grain Exchange. Better late than never.

THE City Council yesterday displayed a gratifying and unusual amount of backbone in its decision to enforce the law against street-railway companies, which have failed to comply with the terms of their franchises.

THE latest issue of "Phillips's California Guide," a quarterly publication, has been received. It is a very handsome little book and replete with interesting information about this section. To G. W. Arbuckle is largely due the credit for this excellent compilation, of which 10,000 copies are issued.

SENATOR PALMER's bill for the restriction of immigration, which was introduced last December and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, has not been heard from since. The Palmer bill maintains the best features of the present law, and provides for a system of consular examinations and certificates in Europe. It should pass.

A LONDON syndicate has just agreed to buy a group of gold and silver mines in Colorado for $5,000,000. This is doubtless the commencement of a series of heavy mining investments in this country by Europeans, consequent on the recent wise action of the Federal Legislature in exempting mineral lands from the provisions of the bill forbidding the acquisition of United States territory by foreign corporations.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Herald, is rapidly coming to the front as the literary journal par excellence of Southern California. The able author of the "Life of Emperor William" and "A Christmas Story" has now "dropped into" poetry. Los Angeles is undoubtedly the true home, not only of the olive, fig, vine and natural gas, but also of the divine afflatus. THE TIMES will have to hunt up a poet, in order to keep up with the procession.

Fuller Explanation Awaited.

A message from the President was received by the Senate yesterday announcing the nomination of Melville W. Fuller of Illinois to be Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

Concerning Mr. Fuller information appears to be very scarce for a man whom the President has surprised the country by suddenly elevating into prominence. Firstly, it is a genuine Republican movement, inaugurated and controlled by loyal Republicans. Secondly, it does not propose to dictate to any community as to the method which it shall adopt to fight the liquor traffic. It is not a third party prohibitory movement in disguise. The chief promoters of the anti-saloon agitation are just as sincere Republicans as the promoters of the protective tariff agitation.

THE Express considers that there are only two newspaper writers in this country, outside of its own columns, who have mastered even the elements of dramatic criticism, and instances the universal writing down of Mrs. Brown Potter as an example of the ignorance prevailing among the would-be critics from New York to Los Angeles. The value of this slightly self-sufficient assertion is diminished when we find the same authority stating that Mrs. Potter is "scrupulously correct in her elocution." If there was one deficiency more than another which was conspicuous in this ambitious lady's efforts, it was her inability to carry into practice the principles of elocutionary art; and her indulgence in absurdities of emphasis and pronunciation was so marked as to become a matter of general comment. In finding this commonly admitted fact denied, we are, in the vernacular of Mrs. Potter, "struck dumb," but not with admiration.

The State Convention.

The eyes of the State are today directed toward Sacramento, where the State Convention meets for the purpose of nominating delegates to the Republican National Convention at Chicago.

The probability is strongly in favor of M. M. Estee being elected chairman. The most prominent names mentioned for delegates-at-large are: M. M. Estee, Creed Haymond, Gen. S. W. Backus, Gen. N. P. Chipman, Henry F. Gage and Frank Pixley of the American party, who is anxious to go for the purpose of nominating Senator Stanford. John F. Swift has also been mentioned, but we have reason to believe that he will not be a candidate for delegate-at-large; he is, however, ambitious to become chairman of the convention.

For district delegates there are two names from San Diego—Tom Fitch and Berry of the Union, although Fitch may possibly seek to go as delegate-at-large; from Los Angeles, H. Z. Osborne; from Santa Barbara, John Stearns; with candidates from Ventura, Monterey and Tulare, and possibly from other of the fourteen counties in the Sixth District. There will doubtless be still others in the field before the convention meets.

A preliminary caucus of a portion of the Sixth District delegation, held in the train en route to San Francisco, is reported to have endorsed Gen. Backus for chairman of the convention. A full caucus of the Sixth-district delegation, however, could not be held until after representatives of all the fourteen counties comprising the district met in Sacramento. After the delegates-at-large have been elected, the districts will probably withdraw and select their delegates, who will be reported to the convention and confirmed.

It is known that strong, though quiet, efforts have been made by the railroad people and by intimate friends of Senator Stanford to secure his endorsement by the convention, not in the hope that he will be nominated at Chicago, but for personal and State purposes—for the personal gratification and to further the interests of men who are behind him. That the expectations of his most sanguine friends extend beyond this point can scarcely be possible.

It is to be hoped that the convention will fully realize the advisability of sending an uninterested delegation to Chicago, with their hands free to work for the best interests of the party, as circumstances may dictate, during the session of the National Convention. Notwithstanding the preponderating Blaine sentiment in the convention which meets today, we do not believe it will instruct its delegates for Blaine, but will leave them to ascertain, first, whether he is in the field, and then with liberty to vote for the most available candidate. Such action will undoubtedly be the most advantageous to the party, and for that reason we have every expectation that this is the course the convention will pursue.

Senate of the United States will say, when it comes to the question of confirmation.

THE House of Commons has again passed, by a good majority, the deceased wife's sister bill, as it has been doing for the past quarter of a century, and the House of Lords will, with equal regularity, vote the measure down.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.—Charles Hoyt has become a comic classic in his own line, and has his periods as greater men have had before him. A Particular Match belongs to his third period, and is a combination of all that he has heretofore conceived, with additions, amendments and conglomerations, until one would need the thousand eyes of Argus to see all the play, and by play. It is a little parlor circus in three rings, where aughing chases reigns, and "Innocent the Angel child," like a little red imp, ruling the whole. Charles E. Evans, as "McCorker," the book agent, and William Hoey, as "Old Hoey," are excellent comedians, and Hoey's make-up in the second act is a revelation even to the most astute critics. To see him in a liberal education in the art of absurdity, Minnie French, the "Angel Child," is a mature young woman, but poorly disguised in over-youthful garments, but looks like a real child, talks like a child and has not yet put away childish things.

All the minor accessories of costume, drift etc. are well done, but none of the voices are good; in fact the singing is nothing but a farce with the sole exception of Mr. Hoey's topical song and a pretty chorus at the close.

The young women of the company are pretty, plump, putting petts, but the young men seem recently to their manner born, as the "Harvard Student" would make a Harvard student look like a schoolboy.

A Particular Match will run through the week and will be patronized liberally as was its first night, by fashion in the parquet and folly in the gallery.

MISS VERA.

HER Lecture on Woman's Rights Last Night.

Miss Verona Baldwin lectured at Armory Hall last night to an audience of about 200, a fair proportion of whom were ladies. It was 7:45 o'clock when the lecturer appeared on the stage, and without wasting any time at once proceeded with her entertainment.

She was dressed in a handsome white costume, which set her off to good advantage, and made a good appearance. Miss Baldwin's lecture was mostly devoted to woman's rights.

She contrasted the man in which she had been brought up with the woman, and pointed on the injustice which was done the latter. She referred to her experience in the insane asylum, and said that women must be allowed to vote before the country can be properly called the land of the free. It was true that slavery had been abolished in one sense, but the partial slavery of women remained. After devoting some time to the lecture, she turned to the audience and asked them if they thought it was right that the men and could do it if they chose. The entire audience was for doing better, saying that she was not at herself, as she had been subjected to much annoyance and persecution during the past few days, and that efforts had been made to have her assassinate the man who had wronged her. The lecture was very good and had done everything they could in the way of advertising, etc., which she thoroughly appreciated.

THAT GOLD NUGGET.

THE JURY Cannot Understand the GUILT SIDE.

IN Department No. 1 of the Superior Court, before Judge Cheney, the case of W. H. Bruce, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses, came up for trial yesterday.

FULL PARTICULARS of the case were given at the time of the preliminary examination in Justice Taney's court. The defendant disposed of a small golden nugget to the clerk in Lowenthal's jewelry store on Main street, taking the payment in cash. On first test, the moment it showed no signs of its base origin, but after the transaction had been completed it was discovered that the article was not what it appeared to be. Thereupon Bruce proved in what manner he had come into his possession and that as far as he was concerned he was perfectly innocent of a felony, but was saving his being a fraud. The jury evidently accepted his explanations as being satisfactory, for they returned a verdict of not guilty.

LOTTERY TICKETS.

THE FIRST ARREST in Los Angeles Yesterday.

L. Sanders and James S. Kennedy were arrested at the cigar store of Sanders, on Main street, last evening about 7:30 o'clock, officers Bowler, Boland and Schonek, and brought to the police station, where they were charged with selling lottery tickets. They were released on depositing $50 cash bail. These gentlemen are the agents for the Louisiana Lottery, and was selling tickets for this drawing as well as for the next. Their cases will come up this morning.

Founds Dead.

Elijah H. Hurd, an old man who has been around the city for some months past, was found dead in bed in his room at a lodging-house on Commercial street yesterday morning. He came to this city some nine months ago from his home in Florida, where he is said to have some $60 or 700 worth of land. He had some money when he first came, which he deposited with a real-estate firm, but said that they refused to give it back to him, and for most of the time he has been living on the charity of his friends. He registered at one of the lodgings houses, and was known by the name of Grover Cleveland, and was the son of Justice Taney, held an inquest last evening, when the jury, after hearing the evidence of several witnesses, returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

A Peanut Trust.

NORFOLK (Va.), April 30.—A peanut trust has been formed in this city embracing firms engaged in the peanut trade in St. Louis, Cincinnati, New York, and Norfolk, Pittsburgh, and Smithfield, Va. In fact the entire peanut interest of the country with the exception of three small firms are included. A president and board of directors have been elected.

Newspaper Burned.

DES MOINES (Iowa), April 30.—The offices of the Daily Leader and Homestead Weekly, agricultural papers, were burned this afternoon, together with Weare's three-story building adjoining. The losses aggregate $45,000; insured for half.

An Institute Organized.

SEATTLE (Wash.), April 30.—Institute No. 83 of the Young Men's Institute was organized on Sunday evening. A large number of young men were initiated and temporary officers elected.

Visible Grain Supply.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The visible supply of grain April 28th is as follows: Wheat, 32,473,000 bushels; corn, 8,830,000; oats, 7,579,000; rye, 3,046,000; barley, 927,000.

Wheat Burned.

HEALDSBURG, April 30.—A barn stored with wheat, owned by Ed Haigh, at Lyon Station, was burned this afternoon. The loss is $6000 or $7000, and there is no insurance.

indications that the Convention Will Settle Down to Work Today and Conclude Its Labors Tomorrow—Sentiment of Some of the Delegates.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] The principal hotels are crowded tonight with delegates to the Republican State Convention, which meets in the Assembly chamber tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the representatives are here except those from the northern districts. They will put in an appearance during Tuesday forenoon. The scenes about the hotels, especially at the Golden Eagle, are animated, but it is hard to find out the exact programme of the convention. It is probable that an organization will be effected in the afternoon, and then the convention will adjourn to 7 in the evening, when an effort will be made to push the work through during the night.

An Associated Press representative interviewed the delegates this evening, and learned that it was probable that the delegates to the Chicago Convention will be uninstructed. The general desire is that four delegates-at-large be elected as nearly as possible from geographical locations, and not with regard to population. There has been considerable speculation as to whether the convention would make Congressional nominations, but it is now the general belief that none will be made, because no provision is made for it on call of the State Central Committee.

The name of Marcus D. Borneck is mentioned as the probable secretary.

M. M. Estee will probably be the choice of the convention for chairman. The San Francisco delegation and Napa, Solano, Alameda and the contiguous counties will regard him as the most prominent as delegates-at-large.

Gov. Waterman has ordered that the Assembly chamber be handsomely decorated with American flags and bunting.

At the conclusion of the caucus over delegates-at-large was still far from settled. It was thought that the election of Creed Haymond and H. F. Gage was sure, while that of George A. Knight, Swift, Estee and Vrooman remained in doubt. The prominent candidates as delegates from the First District were W. Byington of Santa Rosa, Gen. G. N. P. Chipman of Red Bluff.

Second District—H. Jewett, A. W. Simpson of Stockton.

Third District—Eli Dennison of Alameda, Ben Steinmann of Sacramento.

HUNTED DOWN.A Cloverdale Stage Robber Captured.

His Story of the Holding Up and Subsequent Murder.

The Road Agent Apparently a Green German.

He States That His Brother-in-Law Conceived the Crime—No Mention of the Missing Third Man—Only a Little Body Obtained.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] Wells, Fargo & Co. received full particulars today about the stage robbery and killing of Constable Crigler and one of the robbers on the Lakeport road, near Cloverdale, last Saturday. The robbers attacked the stage and stole the iron box, which, however, was almost empty. They were pursued by Constable Abe Crigler of Cloverdale district, Sam Allen, Joe Ward and Ben Sheldoff. The pursuing party came upon the robbers near Profile rock, and Crigler ordered them to throw up their hands. Instead of giving up, the robbers opened fire, and Crigler fell dead. Sam Allen then killed one of the robbers. The others escaped in the darkness. Crigler was 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and four children. The dead robber has been identified as Buck Callahan of California. The robber who escaped is about 5 feet 11 inches in height. He wore a light colored coat and blue overalls. He was probably wounded in the hand or arm, as he left a trail of blood behind. Wells, Fargo & Co. have forwarded a check for $300 to the widow of Crigler and a like sum to the man who shot and killed the robber. The dead robber's body was found the watch which had been stolen from the treasure box.

SANTA ROSA, April 30.—The Cloverdale stage robbers were caught two miles below this city this evening by three citizens. The prisoner is a German, and one of the captors who speaks German secured a statement from him acknowledging that he was the author of the robbery. He was a hired robber. The man who was shot had hired him to assist in robbing the stage, and gave him money with which he could go to Germany. He was shot in the right arm, and was going to San Francisco to have the wound dressed, being afraid to stop in a town along the road.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—A special to the Examiner from Santa Rosa says, as regards the arrested robber, that his prisoner's name is Jo Frey, aged 23. He has been in the United States three months. He resided in San Francisco two months, and was employed as baker in Englebright's bakery, on Kearny street. His companion in crime was his brother-in-law named Eugen Preus, who was employed on the Englebright's store road. The Englebright's son resided with his brother-in-law and sister. He was induced by his brother-in-law to leave work upon a promise of securing a better job, and the two left San Francisco 10 days ago, and went to Cloverdale. They arrived there on Thursday before the robbery. The prisoner claims not to have known that his brother-in-law wanted to hire him to rob Cloverdale. The latter brought four pistols in San Francisco, and the two men dusters in Cloverdale. They purchased provisions on the road, and started toward Lakeport on Saturday morning. They went 20 miles toward Lakeport, and his brother-in-law on the road informed him what he wanted. He told him he was to act in the business of robbing—trust all in him. He gave his two revolvers made masks and prepared for the crime. When within four miles of Cloverdale the brother-in-law told him not to speak, but he would order the driver to throw out the express box. When the stage came along they stopped it, secured the box and did not meet any passengers. The stage drove away. On opening the box they found it to contain only four watches, three silver ones and one gold one.

After the robbery the men went to Tall Cliff where they sat down to rest. They had sat there 15 minutes, when the officers surprised them with the order "Throw up your hands." He wished to surrender, and then said "I am a George revolver, but his brother-in-law said he should rather die first and be fired at the office." The latter fell dead, and at the same time the man with the officer shot, the ball taking effect in the prisoner's arm. He became unconscious in a few moments. In this statement Frey makes no mention of the robber who was killed during the shooting as to whether or not it was his brother-in-law. By one witness the dead robber has been identified as John Callahan.

THE YAQUI WAR.Mexican Troops Still Occupied with the Savages.

NOGALES (Ariz.), April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] Late dispatches to the state authorities of Sonora, Mexico, says that Col. Claudius Seapote of the federal forces on the 20th inst. had a fight with Yaqui Indians on Santa Domingo Island, completely routing them. Several Indians were killed and a large number taken prisoners, including many women and children. Gen. Gómez telegraphs to the Secretary of State of Sonora that on the 22d Capt. Ignacio Figueroa of the federal forces attacked and drove a large party of Yaqui rebels in a place called Gulchare. It had a desperate fight with them. It is believed that in this fight the federal forces were badly worsted. However, the Mexican troops captured a large quantity of guns, bows, arrows and ammunition. This is the first time the Yaquis have been known to go into a fight with bows and arrows.

A REMARKABLE TEST.Good Material Used for San Francisco's New City Hall.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the Board of City Hall Commissioners today, Architect Laver presented a report, showing that in the tests of the cast iron in use for the construction certain mixtures stood the remarkable test of 77 tons to the cubic inch, and made an impression of 132d of an inch on the steel plate on which it was tested. Irving M. Scott, president of the Union Iron Works, gives it as his opinion that the iron is perfectly valuable to iron founders on this coast. The board adopted the original plan of a tower 420 feet high for the City Hall.

Killed on the Rail.

ELKO (Nev.), April 30.—A locomotive that ran off the track at Winnemucca, on Saturday, ran into a handcar, 18 miles east of Elko, and killed two section men and seriously wounded three others. The engine ran into the car while turning a curve. The bodies of the dead men were brought here; also three of the wounded. An inquest will be held tomorrow morning. The locomotive has a steam bell, which was ringing at the time. Pat Hansen, roadmaster, was badly injured. He was taken to Halleck.

Injured by a Runaway.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—A runaway delivery team dashed into a crowd of people at the ferry landing today, and Charles Partidge, first assistant engineer of the steamer Alexander, received a broken arm and a number of bad bruises. William Hunter had his right thigh lacerated, and L. T. Heiser, a good German, had a deep hole torn in his scalp by the wagon shaft and his left leg crushed into a pulp near the ankle. His wounds may prove fatal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Charles Friesneth, convicted of misdemeanor in violating the plumbing law under the legislative act of March, 1883, providing that drainage and plumbing of private buildings in this city must be constructed in accordance with plans previously submitted to and approved by the Board of Health, has been discharged on habeas corpus, Judge Wallace holding that the act is unconstitutional, being too general in its provisions.

Affirmed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The Superior Court today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the State of California against the Central Pacific Railroad Company. The action was based on the requirements of the Legislative act of April 4, 1884, to aid the construction of the Central Pacific Railroad, wherein the State agreed to pay the interest on $150,000 bonds issued by the company.

Count Smith's Successor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—George Arnold, until recently of the Baldwin Hotel, and formerly manager of the Occidental Hotel, will tomorrow formally take the position of chief clerk of the Palace Hotel, made vacant by the death of the late Count Smith.

SEASON'S SPORTS.Exciting Contests on Eastern Ball Fields—Races at Bay District—Races at Nashville and Washington.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] The Philadelphians managed to win a game from the Washingtons today by superior fielding. Buffington and O'Day were equally effective, but the latter was poorly supported by Deasley. Mulvey made a marvelous stop and Andrews made two sensational catches at center. The members of both clubs wore caps on their left arms out of respect to the memory of their late associate, Charles J. Ferguson. Score: Philadelphia, 3; Washington, 1.

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Baldwin made a special request to be allowed to pitch against the Pittsburghs again today, as he had a grievance to square. He did not care to continue in the box after the fifth inning, and gracefully retired in favor of Ryan. The members of the home team were on their mettle, and pounded the ball terrifically for five innings, but after Ryan went in they only got two hits. Morris, who was in fine form, held the wind-up sliders down to four scattering hits. Score: Pittsburgh, 8; Chicago, 2.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Kelly won the game for Boston, today, and the down-standers still retain their percentage of 100%. Kelly and Clarkson worked hard, and though at every point they persevered and finally won. A large crowd witnessed the contest, which was exciting from start to finish. Both teams were visibly nervous, and several glaring errors in the first one or two innings was the result. The famous $20,000 battery—Clarkson and Kelly—pitched and fought for Boston, Welch and Morris did the same for New York.

There was general disappointment at the non-appearance of Keeffe, who it was confidently expected would pitch for the home team. Both Clarkson and Welch pitched well, and were well supported. The attendance was 9889. Score: New York, 3; Boston, 4.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 30.—The weather today was very cold and disagreeable, and there was a small crowd in attendance at the ball park. Detroit won the game by hard hitting, all their runs being earned. Indianapolis got its only run in the seventh inning on an error by Thompson and two sacrifices. Conway pitched for the visitors and was very effective. Score: Indianapolis, 1; Detroit, 13.

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Athletics, 3; Brooklyn, 7.

BALTIMORE, April 30.—Baltimore, 3; Cleveland, 6.

Louisville, April 30.—Louisville, 5; Cincinnati, 6.

ON THE TURF.Extra Day at Bay District—Races in the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[By the Associated Press.] The attendance was small at the extra day's racing of the Pacific Coast Blood-horse Association for the benefit of Mrs. Sidney Marsh, whose husband was killed by Don José jumping the track on the first day of the spring meeting. The weather was windy and the track good.

First race, seven-eighths of a mile, purse $300—Carmen won, Daisy D. second, Peregrine third. Time, 1:28.

THE CLOCK GAME.

A SURE THING PERCENTAGE GAME IN THIS CITY.

What They Think of the Bucket-shop in San Francisco—The Inside Workings of the Grain and Stock Exchange.

Just after the Buckley grain exchange was opened in this city THE TIMES exposed its swindling operations, and called the attention of the City Council to the institution. At that time it was paying a license of $1 a month. The Council with a great flourish raised it to $50, and still the game makes more money than all the fare banks that ever ran in Los Angeles. Shortly after THE TIMES' exposure, the San Francisco papers took the subject up and after a thorough investigation the Examiner shows the San Francisco exchange up in this fashion:

"There is a wonderful repetition in Valentine's corral at Platt's Hall, compared to the shove, push and jostle of a week ago, when the 'Western Grain and Stock Exchange' was running in full force, 40 clerks being engaged inside the railing figuring out with pen and ink the height of the gambling fever on the outside among the bulls and bears.

That portion of the vast hall then occupied by the 'clock' schemers is deserted now, while the bosses of the institution are out at large, endeavoring to square all possible ordinances that might compel them to eternally remain closed.

A few of the plucked pigeons hang around the place still, not that they hope to try their luck again, as they are entirely denuded of their wherewithal to gamble, but because they have nothing else better to do, being completely shattered, morally as well as financially.

There is also in their minds a lingering hope that one of the old proprietors, whose purse has grown plethoric on their former investments, might come along and be unable to resist a 'niece' for the stereotyped dollar "send a dispatch east for a remittance," the said dollar being immediately invested in the stock market.

The 'clock' system of gambling was first introduced in this city nearly two years ago in the most fit locality to be chosen.

The headquarters were in the rooms formerly occupied by Isaac Grazier, the stock-broker, on California street, east of Leidesdorff. The concern made its appearance about the time when the first fire was made by the authority of the 'locked' men.

The faro-banks had also been shut down.

The gambling element of the city was redit for sport, and the 'clock' game went immensely. Several other houses started up, but were closed through some unknown agency, while W. D. Valentine & Co., the originators, kept open house and moved to Platt's Hall, where a larger crowd could be gathered over the tables. Each day, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 12 at night, the shades of night had fallen, the doors remained wide open for the entrance of the slaves desiring to purchase contracts and gamble.

FICTITIOUS QUOTATIONS.

These contracts were supposed to represent the purchase or sale from or to the Exchange of a quantity of pork, wheat, corn, oats or Missouri Pacific shares. They were in two colors, yellow and red, the first being furnished to the gambler who waged his money that a certain cereal, stock or commodity would decline in price, and the reds to those who were willing to bet that they would advance in price.

The rise and fall in values was regulated by a brass machine called the 'automatic quotation-exhibitor,' which is the invention of a young man named W. D. Valentine, whose name was also posted as proprietor in the concern.

The routine work observed by the 'clock' manipulators wherever their machines are in operation is this:

men investing at the same time the same amount, the game begins by taking out 25 cent of their investment, and the fluctuation of the market runs over the other 75 per cent, and then adds to the bid or the bear, as the case might result.

A curious fact in connection with the 'exchange' people is that they claim to be dealers in grain, provisions, bonds and petroleum, whereas, in reality, they have no warehouse in which to store these articles, and as a matter of fact, it called upon to deliver the goods they could not produce the smaller articles, such as oil and groceries.

No such demand has ever been made upon them, however, as the gambler knows too well that his margin would be exhausted and be 'wiped out' in less than an hour; and, beside, the contracts have a saving clause, which is to the effect that the purchaser agrees to pay not only the market price in Chicago, but also any additional sum that may appear upon their blackboard, which would bankrupt the richest man in the world in a month.

HEAVY COMMISSIONS.

The commissions demanded by the 'exchange' from its dupes are one-eighth of a cent per bushel in each transaction in grain, one-eighth of 1 per cent per share on Missouri Pacific, and five cents per barrel-on-pork. The deals accepted, which correspond to the limit in a faro game, are from 500 to 100,000 bushels of grain, from 500 to 1000 shares of Missouri Pacific, and from 20 to 5000 barrels of pork. All to no understand the game of faro, which the police have been very industrious in suppressing, will recognize in this mode of gambling merely another method of 'bucking the tiger,' the only difference being that the percentage in favor of the bank is much larger in the 'exchange' than it is in the game of faro. Another material difference is that in faro the dealer does not take a commission, while the 'exchange' demands $1 on each $5 staked against the game. In faro the player bets on a card to win or lose as he pleases, while in the 'Exchange' the gambler stakes his coin on grain, shares or pork to rise or fall.

At times men have been known to win small amounts, but a canvass of the players for two days failed to bring to light one devotee of the game who had not been a large loser in the long run.

SURE TO LOSE.

Employers of the game claim that the players are losers, but the fact remains that Valentine, who was poor man when he opened for business is now quite wealthy. The class of players attracted to the game varies from the wealthy broker who plays for hundreds of dollars, down to the salaried clerk who contracts gray hairs and mourns the loss of his puny $5. Men who have kept a close watch on the cash operations claim that the game profits to the tune of several thousand dollars daily, and the close of some weeks has seen the bank as much as $50,000 ahead.

The scheme was started in Chicago, and the police commenced such a crusade against it that although the gamblers fought hard, they were finally compelled to close.

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

Overland Excursions.

Passengers joining these parties are in the hands of a regular travel company, an 'excursion agency,' its entire force its representatives, and accustomed to serving the public.

Dating from June Los Angeles on Thursday and San Francisco on Friday, meeting at Sacramento Friday afternoon. Dates are as follows: From Los Angeles, May 10th 24th; June 1st, 2nd; July 5th, 6th; and day following from Sacramento, San Jose, Tularia, Fresno, Merced, Lathrop, San Joaquin, Stockton, Davis, Marysville, Colfax and Sacramento, Calif.

First-class excursions undoubtedly are in every respect as not collectable, and the charge of Burlington agents through to Chicago.

Free sleeping cars, properly provided with curtains, mattresses, blankets, etc. No extra charge for meals, except for the first.

Rates—Thirty-five dollars is the price of a ticket from Los Angeles, San Francisco and most California stations to any Missouri River point and only slightly more to points further west.

Route will be via Salt Lake, Colorado Springs, Denver and Omaha or Kansas City to Chicago.

Travel by daylight is a great feature, as there is no stop at 24 hours in Salt Lake, and go by daylight through the Black Canyon of the Gunnison across the continental divide, then down the Arkansas Pass, thence down the valley of the Arkansas through the Canon and Royal George.

AN ADVANCE IN PORK.

When the figures on the blackboard showed pork to be at $13 10 a barrel, the reporter staked $5 that it would decline in price. Of this amount the "exchange" took $1 as its commission for allowing the reporter to play against its own game; so, if the speculator had won, he would have received $4. He did not withdraw, however, and pork went up to $13 20 on the next turn, leaving the reporter $3 loser, or 10 cents loser on each of the 20 barrels supposed to have been sold, and $1 held back as the "exchange's" commission.

On the next revolution pork went up another 10 cents, and the investor was "wiped out," the remaining $3 margin having vanished. The $5 was therefore, lost on two turns of the register, while in order to double his money pork would have had to decline 10 cents per barrel three times in succession.

If the party investing desires to gamble on the rise or fall of grain, the percentage "which him" is about the same as when he deals in pork, but the commission is not taken out, but is purged out in a special fashion.

If the commodity to be speculated on is quoted at $1, and the purchaser is bidding the market, his contract fixes the price at $1 12 1/2, or 12 1/2 cents above the market price for every share purchased, notwithstanding that the quotation is only $1. That extra sum goes to the house as commission, and the purchaser's profit can only come from seeing over 12 1/2. On the contrary, if he is selling short, the $1 quotation on the blackboard is reduced to 87 1/2 cents, and he must look to his profit in a fall below that figure. In the case of two

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Monday, April 30.
The markets remain unchanged from Saturday's quotations, with the exception of Flour, which has made a marked advance, ranging from 15¢ to 20¢ per barrel higher. Grains of all kinds are strong and quoted at prices somewhat higher.

The general Produce market is well supplied, and prices remain the same as at last quotation.

Fruits of all kinds are in great abundance, prices remaining unchanged, with good demand.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Money on call easy at 26 1/2 per cent., closed offered at 2 per cent.

Prime mercantile, 56 1/2.

Stock exchange, 480 1/4 for 60-day bills; 4,574,000 $8 for demand notes.

Mining shares were dull.

NOW YORK, April 30.—The stock market was very active and strong in the forenoon today, but reacted and became quiet later in the day, and a large portion of the gains were lost, though the list as a rule was fractionally higher this evening, and marked advances scored in a few stocks. London prices came very much higher than the closing prices Saturday, and there was a heavy foreign demand for stock, secondary by liberal purchases for out-of-town parties. This made the market more active, and among the rest Pacific Mail went up, on brighter prospects of the Panama Canal, but San Francisco became conspicuous for the advance in value. The stocks were more numerous than usual last week, but they are confined to small fractions, while Missouri Pacific and Norfolk & Western preferred 2 per cent. ended at 24 1/2. Pacific Mail 12 1/2, Louisville & Nashville 12 1/2, Pacific Mail 12, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred 1 1/4.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

The United States Circuit Court will convene next Monday morning.

The Minnesota picnic train will leave Commercial-street station at 10 a.m.

The match between Hamilton and Knight at Agricultural Park yesterday was won by Hamilton.

The Woman Suffrage Club will meet in the parlors of the Woman's Exchange today at 10:30 p.m.

The Rev. C. S. Uzzell has accepted the pastorate of the Vernon Congregational Church, at a salary of $1200.

A may queen social will be given on Wednesday evening at the East Los Angeles Congregational Church.

The Red-men Tribe No. 59 will meet at 1 o'clock p.m. in Odd Fellows Hall tomorrow to attend the funeral of H. J. Ross.

Solemn high mass was celebrated in the cathedral yesterday morning, it being the anniversary of the dedication of the building.

The Central Avenue M. E. Church has incorporated, with Messrs. Rankin, McMartin, Sawyer, Wilson and Runkle as directors.

A round two dozen "vags" and disturbers of the peace were brought before Justice Taney and mulcted in sums varying from $6 to $33.

Some of the prettiest girls in the city will attend the Minnesota basket picnic at Santa Fé Springs today. The train will leave at 10 o'clock a.m. sharp.

John A. Logan Post gave a musical and literary entertainment last evening in the post's hall. The attendance was large, and a very enjoyable evening was passed.

This evening St. Paul's Philharmonic Society will give another one of their concerts at St. Paul's new hall, on Olive street. An excellent programme has been prepared.

James Driscoll, Thomas Barnabee and Andrew McCarthy were arrested on Main street, last evening, by Officer Doyle, for fighting. They were released on depositing $10 each.

George Denis, the newly-appointed United States District Attorney, has not yet taken possession of his office, but it is expected that his commission will arrive this week.

A valise containing about $40 worth of clothing was found on Huber street in the Bliss train. The valise had been cut open, and is now awaiting an owner at the police station.

At midnight last night Col. James G. Eastman seemed to be much better. The people at the County Hospital are giving the old man all the care possible, and have hopes of his recovery.

C. P. Jones, an ex-convict, was found by Officers Auble and McKenzie on Spring street, last night, and was taken in and given lodgings at the city's expense. He was brought for vagrancy.

The United States District Court met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock to hear the report of the Grand Jury. That body was not yet ready, and an adjournment was taken until this afternoon.

The police feel much encouraged over Judge King's rulings in the Kelly vagrancy case, and several more of the "mac" fraternity will probably feel the weight of the law before they are much older.

The secession on the motion made in the case of the city of Los Angeles vs. property-owners as to the change of the grade of Court House street will be given by Judge O'Melveny this morning.

The following marriage licenses were issued from the office of the County Clerk yesterday: William Koopman, 24, Germany, and Louis Linzenhauer, 24, Missouri; M. F. Marsh and Ada Fletcher of Orange.

The Y. C. A. organized and arranged an attractive program for their first orchestra concert, to be given under the direction of Louis Heine at the First Congregational Church, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. C. A. Paige, who has sued her husband for a divorce, has never talked to any one about the troubles with her husband except her attorneys. She denies that she ever abused him to any reporter.

Michael Relley, an attaché of the San Francisco baggage department, has been joined in marriage to Mary McCarthy. The young couple propose taking their honeymoon trip some time next month, when the groom's turn for a vacation arrives.

A system of rewards was established at the police station and complained that a man was assaulted and struck her on San Pedro street. An officer was sent out and captured the fellow, who was brought to the station and locked up, charged with assault. He gave the name of W. J. Hill.

Yesterday a man named J. Caul went into Bob Eckert's, on Court street, and, after eating, got a $20 check cashed. When the check was presented at the bank it was found that there were no funds to meet it. Caul was arrested and locked up, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

The High Mesa Land and Water Company filed their incorporation papers yesterday. The object of the company is to deal in Tulare land, the directors being Andrew Glassell, George H. Smith, George S. Patton and Thomas B. Brown of Los Angeles, and A. J. Hutchinson of Tulare county. The capital stock is $240,000.

Last evening a very lively runaway took place on Spring street between 5 and 6 o'clock. Two powerful horses attached to a cart with shafts on Spring street started and ran south, to the tune of their speed. They ran into several carriages and barely escaped wrecking a street car loaded with people. Near Sixth street they ran into a telegraph pole and came to a sudden standstill. One of the horses was so badly injured that he cannot live.

At the adjourned meeting of old Missourians held at the court room of Justice Austin last evening, permanent organization for literary and social purposes was effected by the election of the following officers: President, Dr. C. H. Hancock; first vice-president, W. R. Singleton; second vice-president, Mrs. Dr. Tyler Wilcox; secretary, J. Marion Brooks; treasurer, Col. C. A. Allen. A large number was present, and various committees were appointed who are to report at the same place next Monday night. The prospects for a successful organization are very flattering.

THE UNDERWOODS.

Some Very Queer Divorce Testimony in Court.

Before Judge O'Melveny yesterday the suit of William Underwood against Catherine Underwood for a divorce and a division of the community property came up for trial. The defendant had interposed a cross-complaint. The plaintiff on the witness stand averred that his wife had treated him cruelly, calling him bad names, forcing him to stay out in the rain, accusing him of being insane, and finally having him arrested and locked up in the County Jail, and later causing him to be sent to the Stockton Insane Asylum. In answer to questions he said his wife had called him an old fool and a d. He would not state what D stood for, but volunteered the information that the word ended with L. When asked if his wife called him an old devil he shook his head up and down violently and admitted that she did. The wife, Mrs. Underwood, according to her husband, used to lock up the victuals and refused to give him anything to eat. When he would come home she'd make the sign of the cross, and say "Get out of here, you old fool," or "you old d—evil."

When remonstrated with she replied that it was charity to feed a tramp, but none in giving the old man anything to eat. Once Underwood took a key that fitted the food safe and took out $600 and put it in a secret room. This she took away, together with the key. She had also called him a thief. This made Underwood's under lip tremble when he testified to it. He said that he had never stolen anything except a little fruit, of which he was fond, in neighboring orchards.

The Court: How about the chickens?

Plaintiff: No chickens, Your Honor; apples or pears in mind once, when in the army, steals 96 crackers and putting them away in my shirt.

Horace Bell: Are the chickens yours?

Plaintiff: I suppose so. She says they are.

The witness further testified that he was not worth $500 when he married in 1865 at Manchester, and while his wife had nothing.

The witness, while under cross-examination by Mr. McIntyre, gave much of his testimony very unwillingly. Being somewhat deaf, whenever a question in the shape of a posse was put to him he would repeat it two or three times, and if it appeared anyway difficult to answer, he just let go, and became as deaf as a post. Having testified to his inability to tell all the ugly names his wife had called him, and the cruelty he had suffered at her hands, he concluded by saying that she had struck him.

Mr. McIntyre: When did she first strike you?

Plaintiff: I went into the room where she was sitting with the children, and she shut the door against me in my face. She shut it so hard that she broke the hinge. She then took a shoe and hit me with the heel.

Mr. McIntyre: On that occasion did she not strike you when you called her a foul name?

Plaintiff: No, sir! No, sir! Never.

Mr. McIntyre: Well, what was the next?

Plaintiff: Well, she never changed the sheets on my bed for nine months, and she filled up the bedroom with old trash and rags. I call that cruelty.

Mr. McIntyre: Well, you mentioned her having thrown water upon you; how many times did she do so?

Plaintiff: I couldn't tell how many times I have a list somewhere.

Mr. McIntyre: Well, all right, let us have the list.

Plaintiff: In April, 1887, she threw a bucket of water on me and called me a lazer.

Mr. McIntyre: When was that?

Plaintiff: At the breakfast table; two of the boarders were sitting there. One morning I was reading my paper, when she said to me, "What are you staring at?" Said I to her, "I'm not staring at all." Then she said, "Shut up, or I'll have you arrested and put in a madhouse."

Mr. McIntyre: Did you insinuate that she had a paramour in the house?

Plaintiff: No, sir; never, never. Again, on the 20th of August, she threw dirty suds on me.

Mr. McIntyre: What did you mean by saying that your wife was paying too much attention to Morris?

Plaintiff: I don't hear.

(Counsel repeated the question.)

Plaintiff: Just speak a little louder, will you? (Question again repeated.)

Plaintiff: Well, that is my business.

Counsel insisting upon a direct answer, plaintiff resumed: He had been my friend, and she was paying more attention to him than any else, till he turned round and saw her friend and myself. Now, just see that Your Honor (addressing the Court) look into the matter, and let me have justice.

Mr. McIntyre: You were jealous, then?

Plaintiff: Yes, I was.

Mr. McIntyre: Is it not a fact that you accuse her of adultery, and that is your cause of complaint?

Plaintiff: It is only a part; it is a matter of inhumanity. She treated me with every courtesy when you were there. Oh, she was real kind when you were present; then it was "Mr. Underwood, what'll ya have to drink?" but at other times I couldn't get a bite.

The nods and suggestive smiles with which the witness accompanied his answers were most amusing, but did not avail him much, as on the conclusion of the evidence the Court nonsuited him, the charge of cruelty not being proven.

PERSONAL NEWS.

Rev. Henry Scott Jefferys sailed yesterday for San Francisco.

Robert J. Burdette arrives here today from Pasadena. This evening he delivers his noted lecture "The Kiss and Fall of the Mustache."

THE TIMES has the largest circulation of any paper in Southern California. Advertise your wants.

Chautauqua Circle.

The various Chautauqua circles scattered through the city held their usual monthly meeting in the parlors of the Woman's Exchange last evening. There was a good attendance, but by no means as large as on previous occasions. Several interesting papers were read, the remainder of the evening being devoted to music and social intercourse.
